

Southeast Caribbean Dispatch

May Newsletter

Wow was that April that went by! It sure was a wild and wonderful month.

There was the preparation for the Crusade with evangelism every Saturday afternoon. The setting up of the tent, chairs and sound equipment was on Friday and Saturday before the Crusade.

The Break Free Crusade was on the 11th to 16th. The Evangelist was Oscar Cottam, from Antigua, was dynamic and spirit filled. Several came forward to rededicate their lives to Christ. Six young people accepted Christ as their personal savior and were baptized. Several adults also accepted Christ and were baptized.

Of course, I was busy forming up the material for the Christian Discipleship, Believer to Follower class. Moreover, it is finished and ready for the classes that will start around the 17th of May.

Orvel

Kandi's Komments

Hear it is May, where has the year gone? The longer we are here the more slight differences we see. Some are, a Crock Pot is a Slow Cooker, road curves are called bends, you indicate to make a turn and we signal, a swim in the ocean is a sea bath, and it goes on. We chuckle at the differences.

We have been very busy as of late, getting the Discipleship class written, edited and printed. Classes start this month. Last night we had our first meeting with the leaders who will be teaching the classes. Kenroy assigned people to each leader. We will be teaching two classes. Two weeks ago we went to the beach to see six young people baptized. That was a wonderful day! This Saturday there is going to be another baptism.

We were all worn out after the Crusade, but it was a good week. We got to have Pastor Cottam spend a night with us and enjoyed his company. We have been invited to stop in Antigua, where he lives. I am looking forward to doing just that.

Blessings in Christ,

Kandi