

To Friends of Southeast Caribe Mission

Nov 19, 2008

We are looking for a name for the newsletter and we are asking for your help. If you have any ideas please e-mail them to secaribemission@sbcglobal.net. Thank you.

Examples:

Starfish; The fisherman's net; Griff's Carib; Friends of SEC Missions; The Flying Fish.

This quarter has and will be a busy one. First off, I took a trip to Barbados, to do pre-entry work for the mission. It was a time for gathering information about steps that needed to be taken before we moved to the island.

See our web site News at (www.secaribemission.org) for a day-to-day account of the trip.

I was drafted a day before the men's group met, to come up with Bible Bowl questions on Philippians, then to teach an overview of the book. Mission accomplished. I was introduced to several church leaders and all seemed to be genuinely excited about the vision God has for the island.

I totally was immersed into the Bajan culture. Eating only Bajan foods and using public transportation, (their Buses), and actually rubbing elbows with them. In other words, the buses are so crowded that you are packed in so tight that you are rubbing elbows. With this kind of setup, it is easy to talk to the people around you. I spent time talking to anyone that would take the time to speak to someone different from them.

When I returned for Barbados, it was time to get ready to go to the National Missionary Convention. We will be helping at the Global Church Growth booth. The convention is being held in Tulsa OK this year. When I returned I gave a presentation at Sunday school time at Diamond Christian church and for the XYZ (Extra Years of Zest) a group of members ages 50 + at church.

*Please send us your e-mail address if you are interested in receiving our Newsletter.
Email to secaribemission@sbcglobal.net or send us a letter to:*

*Global Church Growth
Southeast Caribe Missions
P.O.Box 157
Nevada, MO 64772*

Kandi's Komments

As I write this, we are preparing to go to Tulsa, OK for the National Missionary Convention. We are taking our forwarding agent and this is her first convention, I am anxious to see it through her eyes. I remember how moved I was the first time I went. I felt I had truly found what God wanted me to do; I just did not know how it would come about then. Truthfully, I still do not know what He will do with me, but I do know this is what He wants me to do. The rest He will reveal in His time.

I am also thinking of the coming holidays, Thanksgiving is just days away and Christmas is fast approaching. The theme for our Ladies Christmas Dinner is "The Gift". Which is the Christ child, how do you wrap that? I for one am just going to let Him wrap me and lead me where He would. How about you? May you be a blessing to our Lord and Savior this Christmas Season